County Convention.

The Democrats of Medina County held a very harmonious County Convention at the court house at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Aug. 1, 1914.

County Chairman Elmer de Montel, by the authority vested in him by law, called the convention to order promptly at 2 o'clock.

On motion Mr. Montel was elected Temporary Chairman and Fletcher Davis, Secretary, after which a motion to make the temporary organization permanent prevailed.

A motion to seat all present as delegates and to cast all votes by precincts was adopted.

The roll of precincts was called and the following were represented: 1 North Hondo, 3 votes; 2 Quilhi, 2 votes; 3 Dunlay, 1 vote; 4 Verdina, 1 vote; 6 Castroville, 5 votes; 7 D'Hanis, 3 votes; 8 Haass Settlement, 1 vote; 14 Briar Branch, 1 vote; 15 Lacoste, 2 votes; 16 South Hondo, 4 votes; Total 19 precincts with 23 votes.

The Executive Committee reported that the returns of the primary election of July 25th had been canvassed and reported the number of votes received by the various candidates and on submission. (These totals were the same as previously published in these columns.) The report was accepted.

The following list of elections and appointments as precinct chairmen were also reported and adopted:

On a motion to appoint a committee to select delegates to the various conventions being adopted, the chair appointed Dr. J. T. FitzSimon, Judge H. E. Haass and Joe Ney as the committee.

On the adoption of a similar motion the chair appointed L. J. Brucks, J. O. Holzhaus, D. W. Short, John Hans and J. G. Brucks as a committee on Resolutions.

After a brief recess, the Committee on Delegates reported the following selections:

Delegates to the State Convention: L. J. Brucks, J. T. FitzSimon and Elmer de Montel.

Delegates to Congressional Convention, 15th district: Henry Wernette, Otto Schmidt of Quilhi, J. G. Brucks, D. W. Short, Mack Kercheville and Phil C. Jagge.

Delegates to Representative Convention 116th district: Fletcher Davis, John T. Briscoe, J. O. Holzhaus, Joe Ney and H. E. Haass.

The report of the Committee was adopted.

The Committee on Resolutions reported as follows:

Be it Resolved that:

The Democratic party of Medina County in convention assembled reaffirms its faith in the principles of the National Democratic Party as manifested by Thomas Jefferson and a long line of illustrious statesmen, and is exemplified by the administration of Woodrow Wilson. We heartily endorse the wise and patriotic statesmanship of Woodrow Wilson and congratulate the American nation upon the restoration of the rule of the people.

We endorse the able, efficient and businesslike manner in which Governor O. B. Colquitt has administered the affairs of Texas during the past four years. Through his wise leadership there has been placed upon our statute books more constructive and salutary legislation than during any administration since the time of James Stephen Hogg, notwithstanding the fact that he was hampered by a hostile majority in the Legislature, which majority attempted to make political capital out of a question which is a moral one and not a political one, as has been frequently written in its platform by the Democracy of Texas, and which should have no place in the party's councils.

We endorse the course in Congress of our Representative, the Hon. Jno. N. Garner, and congratulate the 15th Congressional District of Texas and the Democracy of the Nation on his nomination.

We congratulate the people of Texas upon the nomination of James E. Ferguson as the Democratic candidate for Governor, because we know that this will mean a continuance of the triumphant rule of the people as against the corporations and special interests, and a cessation of the turmoil and strife and dissension that has existed over a false issue, through the machinations of designing politicians, aided and abetted by an organization from another State that has nothing in common with the people of Texas. We rejoice that the people of Texas have declared in unmistakable language that they desire no further agitation of this false issue, and invite those who have been led astray by these false prophets to forget the strife and dissensions of the past few years and strike hands with us and join in making the administration of Governor Ferguson a triumphant vindication of the true principles of Democracy and one that will redound to the material, industrial and intellectual advancement of our great State.

The report was unanimously adopted.

Joe Ney offered the following motion which was duly seconded and carried: "Be it resolved, that all delegates to all conventions be instructed to vote as a unit on all questions and to cast their votes in accordance with the will of the people as expressed in the vote of the primary and the resolutions adopted by this convention."

The convention adjourned.

Hondo 4—D'Hanis 2.

In one of the hardest fought games ever played in Medina County, Hondo defeated D'Hanis Tuesday by a score of 4 to 2.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Bradley of Hondo and the batting and all-around work of C. Richter of D'Hanis.

Hondo went to work with a vim from the jump and refused to consider D'Hanis as a series contender at any stage.

Having Dreiss in trouble in every round, he was finally yanked in favor of B. Koch, who pitched steady ball, but couldn't stave off the good beating that Hondo had laid up for D'Hanis for some time.

This result has placed Hondo in first place for honors. Having beaten D'Hanis, LaCoste and Sabinal she stands a good chance for the championship of the section west of San Antonio.

A lot of games remain to be played, but the way the Hondo team is now going all is over but the oratory.

The following is the official score of the game:

The Man And His Job.

I haven't much faith in the man who complains

Of the work he has chosen to do.
He's lazy, or else he's deficient in brains.

And, may be, a hypocrite, too.
He's likely to cheat, and he's likely to hob;

Away with the man who finds fault with his job.

But give me the man with the sun in his face,

And the shadows all dancing behind;

Who can meet his reverses with calmness and grace

And never forgets to be kind.

For, whether he's wielding a scepter or swab,

I have faith in the man who's in love with his job.

MAKE all of your arrange-

Congress. It is an Agricultural College brought to your doors for three days. Take advantage of it.

THIS thing of the office seeking the man is all right in theory; but in practice there are too many men seeking the office for it to get away on the search for the man.

LET's forget politics for a season and boost for the Dry Farming Congress. It belongs to the whole community and the whole community should unite in making it a creditable affair.

EDITOR Lillie of the Crystal almost persuaded to "slide", over to our Dry Farming Congress. Now is the accepted pulse—and come on over any old way!

And this, perhaps, you have descried—

If you have ever made a success come to the Dry Farming Congress and give the world the benefit of your experience at the Round Table Conferences at the Congress. If you have been a failure come and try to learn how to succeed.

ELSEWHERE will be found the program of the Texas Dry Farming Congress which will convene here August 18th, 19th and 20th.
It will be noted from the program that a wide variety of subjects are to be discussed and the personnel of the speakers assures us that what they will have to say will be well worth listening to. There is a liberal education in the lectures for those who will listen to them and apply them. Every farmer in reach of Hondo should attend every session of this Congress and bring his family—especially the boys and girls—with him. Then when one contemplates the fact that the speakers on this occasion are coming here on their own volition to give our people free of charge the benefit of knowledge that has cost them dearly in time and labor to acquire one must feel that the town can not do too much in an effort to show appreciation for their favors. If you have not done any thing towards arranging for their entertainment get busy now.

WHAT keeps persons down in the world, besides lack of capacity, is not a philosophical contempt of riches or honors, but thoughtlessness and improvidence, a love of sluggish torpor and of present gratification. It is not from preferring virtue to wealth the goods of the mind to those of fortune that they take no thought for the morrow; but from want of forethought and stern self command. The restless, ambitious man too often directs these qualities to an unworthy object; the contented man is generally deficient in the qualities themselves. The one is a stream that flows too often in a wrong channel, and needs to have its course altered; the other is a stagnant pool.
—William Matthews.

THE resolutions adopted by the Democratic County Convention of Medina County, a copy of which is printed elsewhere, may be taken as fairly representative of the resolutions adopted all over the state on that day, and show the temper of the men who elected Jim Ferguson. If Joe Bailey or any other malcontent who is nursing a desire to raise a ruction in the El Paso convention can extract any comfort out of the sentiments thus expressed they should copyright the process as the eighth wonder of the world.

THE blight, as well as the blossom, works God's will; and all that is his plan is best for us, even if we could not realize it at the time. Looking backward over the year, we commit it to him with its sins, its failures, its joys, its sorrows, to be taken into his tender keeping, garnered into the harvest of the years that are past.—M. E. P.

HOW TO GET STRENGTH

after any sickness is purely a matter of nourishment, whether the attack was an ordinary cold or severe illness; the weakened forces cannot repulse disease germs, and this is why a relapse is so often fatal or why chronic weakness often follows sickness.
Restoring strength to millions of people for forty years has proven the real need for taking Scott's Emulsion after any sickness; nothing equals it—nothing compares with it. Its pure, medicinal nourishment, free from alcohol or opiates, promptly creates rich blood, strengthens the nerves and lungs to avert tuberculosis.

Among The Boosters For The Dry Farming Congress

College Station, Texas, August 3rd, 1914.

Mr. Fletcher Davis,
Hondo, Texas.

Dear Sir:

Several days ago Prof. Altwater spoke to me about addressing the Dry Farming Congress during its coming session.

I told him I would be able to deliver an illustrated lecture on the Growing of Improved Varieties of Pecans, provided I could make arrangements to operate a lantern in Hondo. I would appreciate it if you would let me know if such arrangements could be made and whether or not it will be necessary for me to bring a lantern with me.

I would like especially well to know if you have a direct or alternating current.

Very truly yours,

E. J. KYLE.

Prof. Kyle's lecture will be delivered at the Star Theatre on Wednesday evening following the picture show. Mr. F. S. Garrison having kindly offered free use of his building and machine for that purpose.

It is but a short trip to Hondo and that splendid town is preparing a big entertainment for the Texas Dry Farming Congress which meets there the 18th, 19th and 20th of August. A good program has been arranged and it is certain that a profitable and enjoyable time will be experienced by all who attend. The Leader-News man is going and wants about twenty-five to fifty good Uvalde county farmers and business men for company. You know we are going for the purpose of bringing the congress back with us.—Uvalde Leader-News.

PEACE in one's own heart, Receiver is Asked For Medina wards all mankind! These are the full-blown flowers of a successful life. And when we stand far over towards the declining sun and look back to get a full sweep of the years that are gone, the things that will loom high above the plain like the eternal peaks of the Rockies, will not be the profitable trades that we have made, or the clever, cash-yielding bargains that we have driven. Those that will be those that will be jeweled with will be the little deeds of kindness done, the little tender helps

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood.
They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—which vary widely but may include pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatic pains, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right the danger is overcome.
Doan's Kidney Pills have proven an effective kidney medicine.

D. Arnold, Pearsall, Tex., says:
"My kidneys were disordered and the secretions were irregular and painful in passage. I had pains through my back and kidneys. I tried different remedies but nothing helped me until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills.
They gave me relief."

Five Injured Men Recovering Fast.

At the Lewis-Gale Hospital late last night, it was said the five injured men who met with an accident when a motor-car on which they were riding collided with an automobile near Luray, are improving rapidly. C. P.
Osborne, the least injured of the six men, one of whom died from his injuries, left the hospital yesterday and went to his home in the city. H. G.
Henderson, who had charge of the party at Luray, is able to leave his bed, but will be confined in the hospital for some days yet. Mr. Genhemer, also is able to walk about and is improving fast. Messrs. J. C. Wall and W. W. Dickenson have improved greatly, and while their injuries were more extensive than those of their companions, they are now thought to be entirely out of danger and on the road to recovery.—Roanoke, Virginia,

The Twenty Year Test.

"Some twenty years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Geo. W. Broce, publisher of the Enterprise, Aberdeen, Md. "I discovered that it was a quick and safe cure for diarrhoea. Since then no one can sell me anything said to be just as good." During all these years I have used it and recommended it many times, and it has never disappointed anyone." For sale by All Dealers.

No business rises above its source—if you are the source think this over.

What is Best for Indigestion?

Mr. A. Robinson of Drumquinn, Ontario, has been troubled for years with indigestion, and recommends Chamberlain's Tablets as "the best medicine I ever used." If troubled with indigestion or constipation, give them a trial. They are certain to prove beneficial. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents. For sale by All Dealers.

An ounce of good judgement is worth a pound of good nerve.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleansed and Ballard's Snow Liniment applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Keep your health if you would keep your business.

To Prevent Blood Poisoning

Apply at once the wonderful old reliable DR. PORTER'S ANTISEPTIC HEALING OIL, a surgical dressing that relieves pain and heals at the same time. Not a liniment. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Summer Constipation Dangerous.

Constipation in summer time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Typhoid, Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Do-Lox will keep you well, as it increases the bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Do-Lox will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. Take a dose to-night. 50c. at your Druggist.

This is what the professor had written:

DAIRY ON A DRY FARM

MAY BE MADE PROFITABLE UP TO CERTAIN LIMITS.

Summer Grazing, Winter Fodder and Ample Supply of Grain Are Three Questions to Be Considered—Rye Makes Good Crop.

(By PROF. THOMAS SHAW.)

That dairying in dry areas is less profitable and more difficult than in humid areas of on lands supplied with irrigating waters will be apparent to those who have thought upon the subject. This does not mean, however, that it may not be made successful up to a certain limit on the range in the dry area.

In the prosecution of dairying under any conditions, three questions come up for consideration. The first is summer grazing, the second is winter fodders, and the third is the supply of grain that is needed. Wherever all these may be grown on the farm in sufficient quantity, dairying may be successfully carried on.

In dry areas the first of these is the most difficult of attainment. The pasture problem is the most difficult of all problems which the dry land farmer must face, but this problem is by no means unsolvable. The difficulty with grass pastures in a dry country arises from the fact that from these the farmer may only get what nature gives him, whereas in growing other crops he is enabled to stimulate growth through the conservation of moisture. But there are other than grass pastures that will aid him materially in his work.

In all dry areas winter rye may be made to furnish much pasture. It may be sown for such a use almost any season when germination may be secured. Where the rain falls in the growing season it may be sown say in June, the time when moisture is abundant. It may be grazed during all that summer and again the following spring. When rain falls in the late autumn and winter the rye is best sown when the autumn rains begin to fall. When rye is grown for pasture it must be grazed so as to prevent jointing. Usually rye pasture may be followed by summer fallow, but to this plan there may be exceptions.

Grains mixed in character may be sown autumn or spring to provide pasture. This may be sown in mixtures. Those should be chosen which are the least costly for the time being. The grazing of these crops will cease in time to summer fallow the land. The time for sowing them will depend on the season when moisture falls.

There are locations also in which the pasture problem may be made much simpler to the dry land farmer. If his ranch is adjacent to rough lands, he may get his pasture from these in some instances, because it is open range. In other instances he may secure title to it at nominal fee. Ranchmen thus situated are so far fortunate in their location.

The pasture, especially in the autumn, may be supplemented with fodder corn where the elevation is not too high for growing the same. In yet other instances pastures may be grown that will give higher yields than those which nature furnishes unaided. Such, for instance, is brome grass and possibly a few other grasses.

The fodder problem is not so difficult. Fodders are grown usually by the aid, more or less, of conserved moisture. The two leading fodders in most localities will be oat hay, barley hay, and most of all, alfalfa. In many areas these will be supplemented by fodder. Even the straw of certain grains may be made to serve an excellent purpose along with other suitable adjuncts, as straw in dry areas is more valuable than in those of frequent rainfall.

The grain problem to the dry land farmer is easy. He can grow grain almost any season which gives abundant yields. If he can furnish this factor so that it can be fed without threshing the grain he is so much farther ahead. This he can do in many areas by growing a mixture of oats and peas or white hullless barley and peas, and outting them a little under ripe.

The dry land farmer who dairies should be careful not to overstock. He is more affected by the weather than the one who farms by the aid of irrigation. In an unusually dry season he may have some difficulty in providing enough food if the ranch is stocked beyond its power to provide food. The plan is good also which combines grain growing with dairying on the dry land farm.

MAINTAIN AN EARTH MULCH

Efficiency of Hoe Depends Greatly Upon Skill of Operator—Keep the Tool Sharpened.

The efficiency of the rake as a tillage tool depends upon the frequency of its use. If a crust is allowed to form, or the weeds to start, the rake is rendered useless, and the only resort is the hoe. This is a more effective tillage tool than it is sometimes credited with being. Its efficiency in establishing and maintaining an earth mulch depends upon the skill of the operator and the condition of the hoe. Much of the dissatisfaction in the use of a hoe is due to the misconception that a hoe is necessarily dull. As a matter of fact, to do effective work, a hoe must be kept sharp by the occasional use of a file.

STORE SOIL MOISTURE

NEBRASKA STATION STUDIES "DRY FARMING" QUESTION.

Term Leads Many Farmers to Believe It Means Growing Crops With Small Amount of Water—Cultivation Prevents Evaporation.

Water rather than plant food is a limiting factor in crop production throughout the middle West. This has been especially noticeable during the past few years and the farmers west of the Missouri one goes to more it is true that lack of soil moisture is responsible for short crops more than any other one thing, excepting such important matters as seed selection and cultivation. of the 50th meridian in Nebraska, well as in the Dakotas there is a scarcity of moisture almost every year, hence methods of moisture conservation are of prime importance to the farmers of that territory at all times.

Realizing this, the Nebraska experiment station established a substation at North Platte many years ago, for a number of years experiments have been conducted with a view to learning as much as possible about the movement of water in the soil, how to conserve it for the use of crops, and how to store it in the soil from one year to another. In other words, this station has been studying what has come to be referred to as "dry farming."

The term "dry farming" is a misnomer to some extent. It has led many farmers to suppose that it represents growing crops without moisture, rather with a small amount, which does not. Crops grown in the semi-arid regions need just as much water as those grown in the humid sections. In fact, they need more because the drying winds that prevail which increase transpiration, that is the evaporation of moisture by the plants. Summer fallowing, that is cultivation of the soil at intervals of one to two weeks during the summer season, is the principle made use of in the dry sections of our territory to conserve moisture. Some farmers have assumed, it seems, that frequent cultivation of the soil during the summer season increases in some mysterious way the amount of water in that soil, but this is a mistake. There is one way of increasing the water content of a soil and that is by rain. What surface cultivation can do, as does do, is to prevent the water in the soil from escaping into the atmosphere. It is impossible to conserve the moisture of a season by surface cultivation but a certain percentage of it can be stored in the soil through this method.

The substation at North Platte found that during a series of years they were able to store from 10 to 25 per cent of a season's rainfall by cultivating frequently enough to keep the surface three or four inches soil loose, and by preventing weed growth. In other words, from a one inch season's rainfall they were able to store and retain in the soil the use of crops the succeeding year about five inches, but sometimes more than 1.5 inches, or ten per cent of the total rainfall. The variation in the amount of water stored in different years was found to depend upon number of conditions. In order to retain as much of that water as possible the surface must be broken up with disk or harrow or other suitable cultivating implement immediately after the rain.

Since the mulch has to be from three to four inches deep it can be seen that the moisture in the soil about two inches of soil can be conserved, because that stored in the top mulch is lost in a very few days. Then, too, a very dry soil does not absorb moisture so readily as a wet soil.

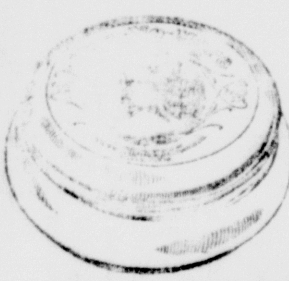

According to the Nebraska investigations, such crops as spring wheat, oats, barley and corn draw their moisture supply from a soil depth of about four inches, whereas winter wheat which has a longer period of growth and therefore attains greater root development, draws moisture from the soil to a depth of six and seven inches. Legumes, by reason of their deep-rooted plants, draw moisture from still greater depths; and alfalfa, the deepest-rooted agricultural plant we have, frequently draws moisture from a depth of 20 to 30 feet below the surface. This is one of the main reasons why alfalfa is such a valuable crop in semi-arid sections. Once alfalfa is thoroughly established it is practically certain to produce something even under very adverse conditions in semi-arid sections.

Mulch for Potatoes.

Irish potatoes grown under a mulch produced about forty-five cent more than the same acreage given ordinary culture at the Nebraska experiment station. The mulch was four to six inches of straw of any kind or hay leaves. Of course, no cultivation whatever was given. The mulching of the potatoes cost less than would the cultivation, yet the mulching heavily increased the yield.

Drought Resistant Crop.

Rape resists drought fairly well, as a rule it is best to sow seed early enough to get the plants well started before dry weather sets in, as during a long dry period the plants are attacked by a kind of plant lice which causes them to wilt and become valueless as a forage.

Leif Ericsson—The Discoverer of America

THE FIRST WHITE MEN to tread American soil were Leif Ericsson and his sea-dashed Viking crew. This was nearly a thousand years ago, when the Scandinavian peoples ruled the seas and held the secrets of navigation. The history of the fair-haired, liberty-loving sons and daughters of Sweden, Norway and Denmark is rich in song and story. We have millions of these splendid folk in our own land, and wherever the standard of Liberty and Human Progress has been raised they are found in the front rank, bravely fighting for the Right. Better citizens or greater lovers of Personal Liberty are unknown. For centuries our full-blooded Scandinavian brothers have been moderate users of Barley-Malt brews. Who can truthfully say it has injured them in any way? It is the ancient heritage of these peoples to revolt at Prohibitory Laws, and their vote is registered almost to a man against such legislation. For 57 years Scandinavians have been drinkers of the honestly-brewed beers of Anheuser-Busch. They have helped to make their great brand BUDWEISER exceed the sales of any other beer by millions of bottles. Seven thousand, five hundred men, all in all, are daily required to keep pace with the natural public demand for Budweiser.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION, AMEND- ING ARTICLES XI, SECTION 7a, OF THE CONSTITUTION—PRO- VIDING FOR AUTHORIZING COUNTIES BORDERING ON THE GULF OF MEXICO TO BUILD SEAWALLS.

Senate Joint Resolution.

To amend Section 7, of Article XI, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico to build seawalls by adding Section 7a, so as to authorize such counties to build seawalls and designate seawall reclamation districts for the protection of life and property from storm overflow, and to build or condemn land for seawall and reclamation districts, the county to have State's title to the roads and bay shore line to low tide within the district, and the right to issue district bonds for acquiring and developing the district and building the seawalls, and when district is developed as townsite to sell such portions of the land as are not reserved for public use by the county.
Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas be proposed to the voters of the State of Texas for their adoption in accordance with law, and that the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to add Section 7a of Article XI, and that Section 7a of Article XI shall read as follows, to wit:

Section 7a. Where protection against the waters of the Gulf of Mexico is needed for protection of life, health, property or the seawall, any county bordering on the Gulf of Mexico may acquire title to the land for said seawall or seawall reclamation district as designated by the county commissioners court by purchase or condemnation of all the land desired for seawall and land for the seawall reclamation district from the seawall to bay shore tide line boundary of the property abutting on the bay, and the State hereby cedes to the county, for such district, for reclamation and general uses of the district, the title to bay shore lands in the district between the property tide line boundary and the low tide line of the bay shore, and any land in the reclamation district that may have been retained by the Republic of Texas of (or) the State for roads when the lands adjacent were platted and sold, and the county is given the right to dredge in the bay or in the gulf for fill for the district, and right to sell the land when reclaimed and laid off as townsite or otherwise, and where condemnation is used to acquire the land the proceedings to be as under the statutes for condemnation for railroads, provided that the condemnation shall vest title in fee in the county, and county may issue bonds or other evidence of district indebtedness for acquiring the property, building the seawall, reclamation district, with lien on land and such terms and conditions as county, through its commissioners court, may deem best, and the county commissioners court shall appoint two persons who are owners of land within the district, and who desire to sell for reclamation and buy back from the county when reclaimed, who, with the county judge as chairman, shall continue a seawall reclamation district commission, whose compensation shall be fixed by the court, and this commission has power to make all rules and regulations for acquiring the land of district seawall building, reclaiming and platting land of district, issuing bonds or other evidence of indebtedness for same, subject, however, to all such rules, regulations and acts of the commission being authorized and approved and ratified by county commissioners court. The district must bear all expenses of seawall and purchase of the land and expenses of filling (filling) same and other expenses, and the same shall not in any way involve the credit of the county or be a basis for a tax by the county on general lands of the county unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the property taxpayers of the county voting at a special election therefor. It is further provided that any owner of land in a proposed district may subscribe and pay for the district commission, when organized, at the pro rata of his land of the expense of the wall, reclamation, platting as town lots on a basis as such area of land is to be the whole land of the reclamation district and seawall, and at any time before the completion of the district may surrender the bonds and receive from the county a bond for title for his land in town lots, less streets and alleys deducted therefrom, for which on surrender deed may be demanded from the county after the district is walled, filled and platting into streets, alleys and lots, and bonds so bought shall so provide. It is further provided that no district shall be formally designated by the county commissioners court until owners of at least one-half of the proposed area of district petition therefor, and subscribe out for bonds for repurchase from the county as herein provided. This amendment may be acted on without delay of legislation in aid thereof or legislative action may be had in furtherance thereof if desired by the county, acting through its commissioners court.

Be it further resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Texas for their ratification and adoption at an election to be held

OUR AGRICULTURAL PROD- UCTS CROSS OCEAN TO REACH FACTORY.

Each Consumer Should Call for Texas-Made Goods.

Texas Farmers Produce $600,- 000,000 of Raw Factory Material Annually.

The farmers of Texas produce $600,000,000 worth of raw material per annum which must pass through the factory before it is consumed, and $100,000,000 is the raw material capacity of the Texas factories. The balance must journey to the foreign factory and a large per cent of our agricultural products cross the ocean to reach it. These statistics present a startling necessity for more factories and in defense of our growing country we must have them, but many of the factories we now have are compelled to seek out-of-state markets for their output and a few have had to shut down for want of a market.

Every consumer is a market-maker and can become a powerful factor in building up the manufacturing industry in Texas by calling for Texas-made goods. If we would patronize home factories, it would call for an investment of $500,000,000 in the manufacturing industry, give employment to 400,000 people and provide a home market for the products of the farm, ranch and mine.

The federal census reports show 4,588 manufacturing establishments in Texas. The capital invested is $216,876,000, there are 84,575 employees engaged in the business; the factory value of the annual output is $272,896,000 and the value added to the raw material by manufacturing is listed at $94,717,000. The four leading industries in the order of the value of their annual output are:

Slaughtering and meat packing, $42,530,000; flour and grist milling, $32,485,000; lumber and timber products, $32,201,000; cottonseed oil and cakes, $29,916,000.

During the past five years we show an increase in establishments of 1-130; in capital invested an increase of $101,211,000 and an increase in employees of 26,683.

Summer Constipation Dangerous.

Constipation in Summer-time is more dangerous than in the fall, winter or spring. The food you eat is often contaminated and is more likely to ferment in your stomach. Then you are apt to drink much cold water during the hot weather, thus injuring your stomach. Colic, Fever, Ptomaine Poisoning and other ills are natural results. Po Do-Lax will keep you well, as it increases the Bile, the natural laxative, which rids the bowels of the congested poisonous waste. Po Do-Lax will make you feel better. Pleasant and effective. A certain college professor, who writes a Horace Greeley hand, tells this story at his own expense. He had written a marginal comment on one of the student's themes, and shortly afterwards the student came to him and said:

"Professor —, I was unable to read what you wrote on my paper, and my parents also could not decipher it. I then called on my uncle, a lawyer, and he finally managed to read it for me."

Infection and Insect Bites Dangerous.

Mosquitoes, flies and other insects, which breed quickly in garbage piles, ponds of stagnant water, barns, musty places, etc., are carriers of disease. Every time they bite you they inject poison into your system from which some dread disease may result. Get a bottle of Sloan's Lintiment. There are locations also in which the pasture problem may be made much simpler to the dry land farmer. If his ranch is adjacent to rough lands, he may get his pasture from these in some instances, because it is open range. In other instances he may secure title to it at nominal fee. Ranchmen thus situated are so far fortunate in their location.

The grain problem to the dry land farmer is easy.

He can grow grain almost any season which gives abundant yields. If he can furnish this factor so that it can be fed without threshing the grain he is so much farther ahead. This he can do in many areas by growing a mixture of oats and peas or white hulls barley and peas, and putting them a little under ripe.

The dry land farmer who dairies should be careful not to overstock.

He is more affected by the weather than the one who farms by the aid of irrigation. In an unusually dry season he may have some difficulty in providing enough food if the ranch is stocked beyond its power to provide food. The plan is good also which combines grain growing with dairying on the dry land farm.

Efficiency of Hoe Depends Greatly Upon Skill of Operator—Keep the Tool Sharpened.

The efficiency of the rake as a tillage tool depends upon the frequency of its use. If a crust is allowed to form, or the weeds to start, the rake is rendered useless, and the only resort is the hoe. This is a more effective tillage tool than it is sometimes credited with being. Its efficiency in establishing and maintaining an earth mulch depends upon the skill of the operator and the condition of the hoe. Much of the dissatisfaction in the use of a hoe is due to the misconception that a hoe is necessarily dull. As a matter of fact, to do effective work, a hoe must be kept sharp by the occasional use of a file.

Mulch for Potatoes.

Irish potatoes grown under a mulch produced about forty-five cent more than the same acreage given ordinary culture at the Nebraska experiment station. The mulch was four to six inches of straw of any kind or hay leaves. Of course, no cultivation whatever was given. The mulching of the potatoes cost less than would the cultivation, yet the mulching heavily increased the yield.

Drought Resistant Crop.

Rape resists drought fairly well, as a rule it is best to sow seed early enough to get the plants well established before dry weather sets in, as during a long dry period the plants are attacked by a kind of plant disease which causes them to wilt and become valueless as a forage.

DAIRY ON A DRY FARM

MAY BE MADE PROFITABLE UP TO CERTAIN LIMITS.

Summer Grazing, Winter Fodder and Ample Supply of Grain Are Three Questions to Be Considered—Rye Makes Good Crop.

That dairying in dry areas is less profitable and more difficult than in humid areas or on lands supplied with irrigating waters will be apparent to those who have thought upon the subject. This does not mean, however, that it may not be made successful up to a certain limit on the ranch in the dry area.

In the prosecution of dairying under any conditions, three questions come up for consideration. The first is summer grazing, the second is winter fodders, and the third is the supply of grain that is needed. Wherever all these may be grown on the farm in sufficient quantity, dairying may be successfully carried on.

In dry areas the first of these is the most difficult of attainment. The pasture problem is the most difficult of all problems which the dry land farmer must face, but this problem is by no means unsolvable. The difficulty with grass pastures in a dry country arises from the fact that from these the farmer may only get what nature gives him, whereas in growing other crops he is enabled to stimulate growth through the conservation of moisture. But there are other than grass pastures that will aid him materially in his work.

In all dry areas winter rye may be made to furnish much pasture. It may be sown for such a use almost any season when germination may be secured. Where the rain falls in the growing season it may be sown say in June, the time when moisture is abundant. It may be grazed during all that summer and again the following spring. When rain falls in the late autumn and winter the rye is best sown when the autumn rains begin to fall. When rye is grown for pasture it must be grazed so as to prevent jointing. Usually rye pasture may be followed by summer fallow, but to this plan there may be exceptions.

Grains mixed in character may be sown autumn or spring to provide pasture. This may be sown in mixtures. Those should be chosen which are the least costly for the time being. The grazing of these crops will cease in time to summer fallow the land. The time for sowing them will depend on the season when moisture falls.

There are locations also in which the pasture problem may be made much simpler to the dry land farmer. If his ranch is adjacent to rough lands, he may get his pasture from these in some instances, because it is open range. In other instances he may secure title to it at nominal fee. Ranchmen thus situated are so far fortunate in their location.

The pastures, especially in the autumn, may be supplemented with fodder corn where the elevation is not too high for growing the same. In yet other instances pastures may be grown that will give higher yields than those which nature furnishes unaided. Such, for instance, is bromo grass and possibly a few other grasses.

The fodder problem is not so difficult. Fodders are grown usually by the aid, more or less, of conserved moisture. The two leading fodders in most localities will be oat hay, barley hay, and, most of all, alfalfa. In many areas these will be supplemented by fodder. Even the straw of certain grains may be made to serve an excellent purpose along with other suitable adjuncts, as straw in dry areas is more valuable than in those of frequent rainfall.

The grain problem to the dry land farmer is easy. He can grow grain almost any season which gives abundant yields. If he can furnish this factor so that it can be fed without threshing the grain he is so much farther ahead. This he can do in many areas by growing a mixture of oats and peas or white hulls barley and peas, and putting them a little under ripe.

The dry land farmer who dairies should be careful not to overstock. He is more affected by the weather than the one who farms by the aid of irrigation. STORE SOIL MOISTURE

NEBRASKA STATION STUDIES "DRY FARMING" QUESTION.

Water rather than plant food is the limiting factor in crop production throughout the middle West. This has been especially noticeable during the past few years and the farther west of the Missouri one goes the more it is true that lack of soil moisture is responsible for short crops more than any other one thing, excepting such important matters as seed selection and cultivation. West of the 100th meridian in Nebraska, as well as in the Dakotas there is a scarcity of moisture almost every year, hence methods of moisture conservation are of prime importance to the farmers of that territory at all times.

Realizing this, the Nebraska experiment station established a substation at North Platte many years ago for a number of years experience have been conducted with a view to learning as much as possible about the movement of water in the soil, how to conserve it for the use of crops, and how to store it in the soil from one year to another. In other words, this station has been studying what has come to be referred to as "dry farming."

The term "dry farming" is a misnomer to some extent. It has led many farmers to suppose that it represents growing crops without moisture, rather with a small amount, which does not. Crops grown in the semi-arid regions need just as much water as those grown in the humid sections. In fact, they need more because the drying winds that prevail which increase transpiration, that is the evaporation of moisture by the plant. Summer following, that is cultivation of the soil at intervals of one to two weeks during the summer season, the principle made use of in the dry sections of our territory to conserve moisture. Some farmers have assumed, it seems, that frequent cultivation of the soil during the summer season increases in some mysterious way the amount of water in the soil, but this is a mistake. There is no one way of increasing the water content of a soil and that is by rain. What surface cultivation can do, as does do, is to prevent the water in the soil from escaping into the atmosphere. It is impossible to conserve the moisture of a season by surface cultivation but a certain percentage of it can be stored in the soil through this method.

The substation at North Platte found that during a series of years they were able to store from 10 to 20 per cent of a season's rainfall by cultivating frequently enough to be the surface three or four inches of soil loose, and by preventing weed growth. In other words, from a 10 inch season's rainfall they were able to store and retain in the soil the use of crops the succeeding year about five inches, but sometimes more than 1.5 inches, or ten per cent of the total rainfall. The variation in the amount of water stored in different years was found to depend upon number of conditions. In order to retain as much of that water as possible the surface must be broken up with disk or harrow or other suitable cultivating implement immediately after the rain.

Since the mulch has to be from three to four inches deep it can be seen that the moisture in the soil about two inches of this soil can be conserved, because that stored in the top mulch is lost in a very few days. Then, too, a very dry soil does not absorb moisture so readily as a wet soil.

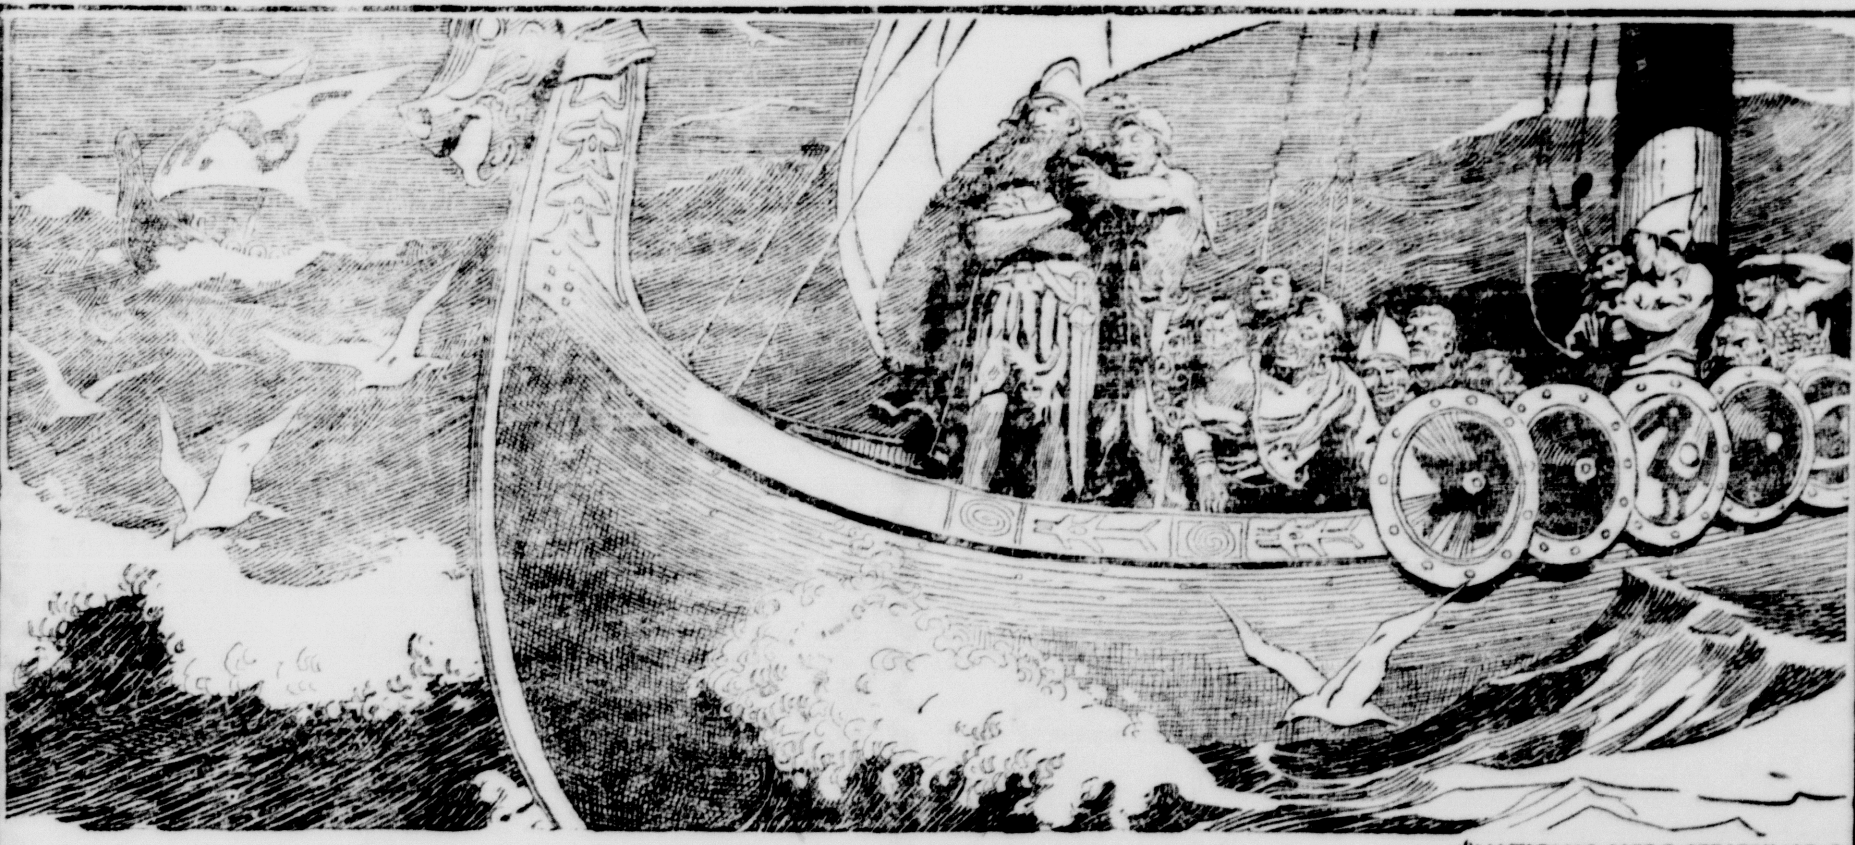

According to the Nebraska investigations, such crops as spring wheat, oats, barley and corn draw their moisture supply from a soil depth of four inches, whereas winter wheat which has a longer period of growth and therefore attains greater root development, draws moisture from soil to a depth of six and seven inches. Legumes, by reason of their deep-rooted plants, draw moisture from still greater depths; and alfalfa, the deepest-rooted agricultural plant we have, frequently draws moisture from a depth of 20 to 30 feet below surface. This is one of the main reasons why alfalfa is such a valuable crop in semi-arid sections. Once alfalfa is thoroughly established it is practically certain to produce something even under very adverse conditions in semi-arid sections.

Irish potatoes grown under a mulch produced about forty-five cent more than the same acreage given ordinary culture at the Nebraska experiment station. The mulch was four to six inches of straw of any kind or hay leaves. Of course, no cultivation whatever was given. PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION, AMENDING ARTICLES XI, SECTION 7A, OF THE CONSTITUTION—PROVIDING FOR AUTHORIZING COUNTIES BORDERING ON THE GULF OF MEXICO TO BUILD SEAWALLS.

Senate Joint Resolution.

To amend Section 7, of Article XI, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico to build seawalls by adding Section 7a, so as to authorize such counties to build seawalls and designate seawall reclamation districts for the protection of life and property from storm overflow, and to build or condemn land for seawall and reclamation districts, the county to have State's title to the roads and bay shore line to low tide within the district, and the right to issue district bonds for acquiring and developing the district and building the seawalls, and when district is developed as townsite to sell such portions of the land as are not reserved for public use by the county.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That the following amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas be proposed to the voters of the State of Texas for their adoption in accordance with law, and that the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to add Section 7a of Article XI, and that Section 7a of Article XI shall read as follows, to-wit:

Section 7a. Where protection against the waters of the Gulf of Mexico is needed for protection of life, health, property or the seawall, any county bordering on the Gulf of Mexico may acquire title to the land for said seawall or seawall reclamation district as designated by the county commissioners court by purchase or condemnation of all the land desired for seawall and land for the seawall reclamation district from the seawall to bay shore tide line boundary of the property abutting on the bay, and the State hereby cedes to the county, for such district, for reclamation and general uses of the district, the title to bay shore lands in the district between the property tide line boundary and the low tide line of the bay shore, and any land in the reclamation district that may have been retained by the Republic of Texas of (or) the State for roads when the lands adjacent were platted and sold, and the county is given the right to dredge in the bay or in the gulf for fill for the district, and right to sell the land when reclaimed and laid off as townsite or otherwise, and where condemnation is used to acquire the land the proceedings to be as under the statutes for condemnation for railroads, provided that the condemnation shall vest title in fee in the county, and county may issue bonds or other evidence of district indebtedness for acquiring the property, building the seawall, reclamation district, with lien on land and such terms and conditions as county, through its commissioners court, may deem best, and the county commissioners court shall appoint two persons who are owners of land within the district, and who desire to sell for reclamation and buy back from the county when reclaimed, who, with the county judge as chairman, shall continue a seawall reclamation district commission, whose compensation shall be fixed by the court, and this commission has power to make all rules and regulations for acquiring the land of district seawall building, reclaiming and platting land of district, issuing bonds or other evidence of indebtedness for same, subject, however, to all such rules, regulations and acts of the commission being authorized and approved and ratified by county commissioners court. The district must bear all expenses of seawall and purchase of the land and expenses of filling (filling) same and other expenses, and the same shall not in any way involve the credit of the county or be a basis for a tax by the county on general lands of the county unless authorized by a vote of two-thirds of the property taxpayers of the county voting at a special election therefor. It is further provided that any owner of land in a proposed district may subscribe and pay for the district commission, when organized, at the pro rata of his land of the expense of the wall, reclamation, platting as town lots on a basis as such area of land is to be the whole land of the reclamation district and seawall, and at any time before the completion of the district may surrender the bonds and receive from the county a bond for title for his land in town lots, less streets and alleys deducted therefrom, for which on surrender deed may be demanded from the county after the district is walled, filled and platting into streets, alleys and lots, and bonds so bought shall so provide. It is further provided that no district shall be formally designated by the county commissioners court until owners of at least one-half of the proposed area of district petition therefor, and subscribe out for bonds for repurchase from the county as herein provided. This amendment may be acted on without delay of legislation in aid thereof or legislative action may be had in furtherance thereof if desired by the county, acting through its commissioners court.

Be it further resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

That the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the State of Texas for their ratification and adoption at an election to be held throughout the State on the second Tuesday in November, A. D. 1914, and at such election those favoring the ratification and adoption of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots: "For the amendment to Article XI, Section 7a, of the Constitution, providing for authorizing counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico to build seawalls;" and those opposing the adoption and ratification of said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, "Against the amendment to Article XI, Section 7a, of the Constitution, providing for authorizing counties bordering on the Gulf of Mexico to build seawalls."

Section 24. The members of the Legislature shall each receive from the public treasury as compensation for their services twelve hundred ($1,200.00) dollars for the year in which each regular session of the Legislature is held, payable in equal installments on the twentieth days of January, April, July and October of the year in which the regular session is held and five dollars per day for each day of every special session held in the year next succeeding that in which any regular session is held. In addition to said compensation the members of each house shall be entitled to mileage going to and returning from the seat of government, which mileage shall not exceed five cents per mile, the distance to be computed by the nearest and most direct route of travel by land, regardless of railways or water routes; and the Comptroller of the State shall prepare and preserve a table of distances to each county seat, now or hereafter to be established, and by said table the mileage of each member shall be paid. Each regular session shall continue until the business of such session is disposed of.

Section 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation submitting this amendment to be voted upon by the qualified electors for members of the Legislature, at the first general election to be held in this State. Those favoring the amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words: "For amendment to Section 24, of Article 3, of the Constitution, increasing compensation of the Legislature, and extending the length of the regular session of the Legislature." Those opposing said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballot the words: "Against amendment to Section 24, of Article 3, of the Constitution, increasing compensation of the members of the Legislature, and extending the term of regular sessions of the Legislature."

OUR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS CROSS OCEAN TO REACH FACTORY.

Texas Farmers Produce $600,000,000 of Raw Factory Material Annually.

The farmers of Texas produce $600,000,000 worth of raw material per annum which must pass through the factory before it is consumed, and $100,000,000 is the raw material capacity of the Texas factories. The balance must journey to the foreign factory and a large per cent of our agricultural products cross the ocean to reach it. These statistics present a startling necessity for more factories and in defense of our growing country we must have them, but many of the factories we now have are compelled to seek out-of-state markets for their output and a few have had to shut down for want of a market.

Every consumer is a market-maker and can become a powerful factor in building up the manufacturing industry in Texas by calling for Texas-made goods. If we would patronize home factories, it would call for an investment of $500,000,000 in the manufacturing industry, give employment to 400,000 people and provide a home market for the products of the farm, ranch and mine.

The federal census reports show 4,588 manufacturing establishments in Texas. The capital invested is $216,876,000, there are 84,575 employees engaged in the business; the factory value of the annual output is $72,896,000 and the value added to the raw material by manufacturing is listed at $94,717,000. The four leading industries in the order of the value of their annual output are:

Slaughtering and meat packing, $42,530,000; flour and grist milling, $32,485,000; lumber and timber products, $32,201,000; cottonseed oil and cakes, $29,916,000.

During the past five years we show an increase in establishments of 1,130; in capital invested an increase of $101,211,000 and an increase in employees of 26,683.

The Dry Farming Congress will meet in Sixth Annual Session here August 18, 19, and 20th.

When you feel dull, out of sorts, discouraged, half sick and everything seems to be going wrong, you can blame it on your liver. It is torpid. You need HERBINE A Medicine of Power in All Liver Disorders.

When the liver is torpid, it throws impurities into the system, which hamper every organ in the body. The result is that functional processes are not properly carried on. Impurities get into the blood, the stomach is bilious, the kidneys weak and the bowels irregular—generally constipated. Herbine clears out all these impurities, opens up the obstructed channels, strengthens the torpid liver, cleanses the blood, purifies and regulates the bowels. After the system has been thus overhauled, there is an immediate improvement. Appetite returns, digestion is good, the spirits rise, the mind clears of gloomy forebodings and everything looks bright and cheerful, which means, sound, healthy conditions everywhere in the body.

Rich Stranger Kidnaped In Mistake For "Our Mutual Girl"

ADA TAYLOR POINTS OUT THE BLUNDER

With three different interests searching for "Our Mutual Girl" it would seem that the chances of her remaining missing were remote. But as each party of searchers spent some time and energy watching the others no one got any results.

One crooked gang, desirous of finding Margaret in hopes of using her to extort money from her wealthy aunt, Mrs. Knickerbocker, had scouts on hand when the abduction took place. The police tried to prevent the kidnapping and when the effort failed gave chase in an auto. The kidnapers were clever, and they eluded the police and took their victim to their rendezvous. Then they sent for Ada Taylor, the protegee of "Our Mutual Girl." She at once declared that a blunder had been made; that the captive was not Margaret. The discomfited kidnapers lost no time in releasing their unwilling prisoner, who had had a most unusual experience.

There is plenty of action here, and it may all be seen by the public on and after June 8 in the next chapter of "Our Mutual Girl" fifty-two reel serial.

FEWER FLIES; MORE BABIES

By DR. RALPH STEINER, State Health Officer.

Flies killed more than a thousand Texas babies last year. We still have more than a half-million babies in Texas, and it is the duty of every citizen to help save their lives. The fly is baby's worst enemy. He is the forerunner of pestilence and the undertaker's traveling salesman. To save the babies means to swat the flies. The most effective way of exterminating the fly is to eradicate his breeding places. Remove all filth and trash from the premises and screen all doors and windows. Flies are a disgrace and a deadly menace. Organize a clean up club in your home and make each one of the family a charter member. Fewer flies means more babies.

Don't Take Calomel Here's A Better Remedy.

Taking calomel is mighty risky and often times dangerous.

You ought to get along without taking calomel yourself or giving it to your family, when you can get a remedy that takes its place. Dodson's Liver Tone is an agreeable vegetable liquid that starts the liver to action just as surely as calomel does. But unlike calomel, Dodson's Liver Tone does not stimulate the liver too much. It gives relief gently. Calomel acts so strongly that it may leave you worse than you were at first, and calomel also sometimes causes salivation. Dodson's Liver Tone works well and never harms.

A large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone is sold for fifty cents by W. H. Windrow. It always has given such perfect satisfaction that your money will be given back to you with a smile if you buy a bottle and are not perfectly satisfied with it in every way.
